- (b) In order to show compliance with 3.2.1.17 of this part, an ATO shall establish its quality system and quality assurance programme in accordance with the instruction and information contained in the following paragraphs.

1.0 Quality Policy and Strategy

- 1.1 The ATO shall describe how it performs the organisation and management of its training operations in order to ensure it operates in conformity with the ATO Procedures Manual and as approved by the Authority. A formal, written quality policy statement shall be prepared that establishes a commitment by the accountable manager of the ATO to achieving and maintaining the highest possible standards in quality. The quality policy shall reflect the achievement of continued compliance with all applicable Surinamese regulations and any additional standards specified by the ATO.
- 1.2 The accountable manager of the training organisation shall have the overall responsibility for the standard of quality, including the frequency, format, and structure of the internal management review and analysis activities, and may delegate to a quality manager the responsibility for the tasks defined under paragraph 2 of this IS. Depending on the size and scope of the ATO and the requirements of the Authority, the accountable manager and quality manager may interact in different ways.

2.0 Quality Manager

- 2.2 The quality manager shall be responsible for ensuring that the quality system is properly documented, implemented, maintained, and continuously reviewed and improved.
- 2.3 The quality manager shall:
- (a) Report directly to the Director of Training (see Note); and
 - (b) Have unencumbered access to all parts of the ATO.
- Note: When the Director of Training is not the accountable manager, reporting mechanisms shall be instituted to ensure that the accountable manager is aware of all issues impacting the quality of the training services being provided by the affected ATO.*
- 2.4 The quality manager shall be responsible for ensuring that personnel training related to the quality system is conducted.

3.0 Quality Assurance

- 3.1 The term "quality assurance" is frequently misunderstood to mean the testing and checking of products and services. ATOs that do only checking and testing activities are merely applying quality control measures, which are designed to catch product and service defects but not necessarily prevent them. For example, an ATO that administers exams at the end of the training syllabus, only to discover that a large proportion of the students failed to meet the required standard, has only identified a deficiency in expected results. The implication may be that there is a problem with the training programme, or the instructor, or even the student selection criteria. In this instance, the ATO has no idea what the real problem is or what to do about it. Quality control by itself provides limited value without the suite of complementary activities that comprise quality assurance.

3.2	Quality assurance, on the other hand, attempts to improve and stabilise the training process and to identify and avoid, or at least minimise, issues that lead to problems in the first place. It continuously verifies that standards are adhered to throughout the training process by introducing various checkpoints and controls. It further introduces a system of audits to ensure that documented policies, processes, and procedures are consistently followed. It is the “assurance” part of quality management.
3.3	A quality assurance plan for an ATO shall encompass well-designed and documented policies, processes, and procedures for at least the following activities: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) Monitoring training services and process controls;(b) Monitoring assessment and testing methods;(c) Monitoring personnel qualifications and training;(d) Monitoring training devices and equipment qualification, calibration, and functionality, as applicable;(e) Conducting internal and external audits;(f) Developing, implementing, and monitoring corrective and preventive actions and associated reporting systems; and(g) Utilising appropriate statistical analysis to identify and respond appropriately to trends.
3.4	An effective quality assurance plan will aid significantly in the ATO's compliance with requirements, its conformity with the standards, and the adequacy of its training activities. Taking the ATO's performance to a higher level requires a structure that ensures that the combined quality assurance effort of the employees reaches its full potential.
3.5	Quality assurance plans by themselves are subject to breakdowns in human performance and therefore require robust organisational structures that underpin the quality assurance efforts of individuals.
4.0	Quality System for the ATO
4.1	A quality system is the aggregate of all the ATO's activities, plans, policies, processes, procedures, resources, incentives, and infrastructure working in unison towards a total quality management approach. It requires an organisational construct, complete with policies, processes, procedures, and resources, that underpins a commitment to achieving excellence in product and service delivery through the implementation of best practices in quality management.
4.2	An ATO that supports its quality assurance plan with a well-designed, -implemented, and -maintained quality system structure shall be able to easily and repeatedly achieve results that exceed both the requirements of the applicable national regulations and the expectations of the ATO's clients.
4.3	The basic attributes of an effective quality system shall include, but are not necessarily limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) A managerial structure that facilitates and encourages clear and unencumbered access to the decision makers;(b) An overarching company commitment to achieving excellence in training service delivery rather than to meeting minimum requirements;(c) Quality policies, processes, and procedures that are well-designed, consistently applied, and subject to formalised review and refinement processes;

- (d) An employee training plan that instils and promotes best practices in quality management efforts;
- (e) An organisational risk profile and corresponding risk management plan, which together provide a comprehensive list of hazards that are tied to the ATO's activities and establish mitigating measures to effectively manage those risks that threaten the achievement of desired standards of performance; and
- (f) A strategic review of policies and procedures that measures the organisation's current assumptions, objectives, and plans by applying a relevance test matched to evolving trends in the industry or changes occurring within the ATO.

5.0 Organisational Risk Profile

5.1 An organisational risk profile is an inventory of identified hazards and threats that present risks that are likely to prevent conformity with the required standards of performance. This "threat to quality" list is normally derived by first establishing a directory of those activities that routinely take place in order to deliver and administer a training programme. Once complete, the activity directory is then expanded to identify the hazards and threats associated with each individual activity. Some examples of routine activities that shall be examined during this process are:

- (a) Selection and training of personnel;
- (b) Training programme development, validation, and review;
- (c) Development and maintenance of training courseware;
- (d) Administrative personnel duties in support of the training programme, the instructors and evaluators, and the students;
- (e) Delivery of training;
- (f) Record keeping;
- (g) Assessment and examination processes; and
- (h) Client and Authority feedback.

5.2 The risks identified through this exercise shall not be limited to just those that currently exist but shall also include those potential risks that may arise from a change to existing circumstances or conditions.

6.0 Risk Management Plan

6.1 A risk management plan is designed to mitigate the identified risks, real or potential, that were derived from the organisational risk profile exercise. The plan's objective is not to eliminate risk so much as it is to effectively manage risk by putting in place risk-controlling measures.

6.2 A well-developed and -implemented risk management plan will substantially aid in accurately scoping out the depth and frequency of planned quality-assurance-related activities.

6.3 The plan shall be subject to the management review process outlined in paragraph 4.3(f) of this IS.

6.4 The current risk management plan shall be readily accessible to all employees so that it can be accurately followed and open to comment for improvement.

7.0 Coherence Matrix

7.1 A coherence matrix, sometimes known as a correspondence matrix, is a very powerful addition to the ATO's compliance efforts. It is a detailed, tabulated document that lists all the applicable regulatory requirements imposed on the ATO. Beside each listed provision there shall be at least two descriptive elements that identify:

	(a) The existing process(es) that is (are) designed to ensure continuous compliance with that specific regulation or standard; and
	(b) The individual managerial position responsible for the effective implementation of each process.
7.2	The coherence matrix shall indicate the next intended and most recently completed audits designed to validate the functionality of each of the identified processes. Any recent audit findings shall be listed in the matrix or referred to as being documented in a separate register of findings.
7.3	The coherence matrix is developed and managed by the quality manager and is subject to the management review process.
7.4	The current coherence matrix shall be readily accessible to all employees so it can be accurately followed and open to comment for improvement.
8.0	Corrective and Preventive Action Reports
8.1	Quality assurance plans shall include a well-structured reporting system to ensure that suggestions by ATO personnel for both corrective and preventive actions are recorded and promptly addressed. Paragraph 3.3(f) of this IS identifies this as a necessary component of quality assurance.
8.2	After an analysis of the reports submitted, the reporting system shall specify who is required to rectify a discrepancy and/or nonconformity in each particular case and the procedure to be followed if corrective action is not completed within an appropriate timescale. Just as important, the reporting system shall identify who is required to investigate and act upon any report identifying measures that may prevent a nonconformity from occurring.
8.3	Corrective and preventive action reports shall be able to be submitted anonymously, if individuals so choose, to maximise the opportunity for open and effective reporting.
8.4	Since corrective and preventive action reports, in this instance, represent suggestions for improvement in conformity levels and deal with quality issues, this reporting system and its processes shall be managed by the quality manager.
9.0	Quality-Related Documentation
9.1	Relevant documentation includes part(s) of the ATO Procedures Manual that may be included in a separate Quality Manual.
9.2	In addition, the relevant documentation shall include the following:
	(a) Description of the ATO;
	(b) Quality policy and strategy;
	(c) Glossary;
	(d) Organisational risk profile;
	(e) Risk management plan;
	(f) Coherence matrix;
	(g) Corrective and preventive action procedures and reporting system;
	(h) Specified training standards;
	(i) Assignment of duties and responsibilities related to quality assurance and the quality system; and
	(j) Training procedures related to the quality system to ensure regulatory compliance.
10.0	Quality Assurance Programme
10.1	The quality assurance programme shall include all planned and systematic actions necessary to provide confidence that every training activity is conducted in accordance with all applicable requirements, standards, and procedures.

21.2	The quality assurance programme documentation shall reflect: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) The schedule of the monitoring process(b) Audit procedures(c) Reporting procedures;(d) Follow-up and corrective action procedures;(e) The record keeping system; and(f) Document control.
11.0	Quality Inspection
11.1	The primary purpose of a quality inspection is to review a document or observe a particular event, action, etc., in order to verify whether established training procedures and requirements are followed during the conduct of the inspection and whether the required standard is achieved.
11.2	Examples of typical subject areas for quality inspections are: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) Actual training sessions;(b) Maintenance, if applicable;(c) Technical standards; and(d) Training standards.
12.0	Quality Audits
12.1	An audit is a systematic and independent comparison between the way in which training is being conducted and the way in which it should be conducted according to the published training procedures.
12.2	Audits shall include at least the following quality procedures and processes: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) A description of the scope of the audit, which shall be explained to the personnel to be audited;(b) Planning and preparation;(c) The gathering and recording of evidence; and(d) Analysis of the evidence.
12.3	The various techniques that make up an effective audit are: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) A review of published documents;(b) Interviews or discussions with personnel;(c) The examination of an adequate sample of records;(d) The witnessing of the activities that make up the training; and(e) The preservation of documents and the recording of observations.
13.0	Auditors
13.1	The ATO shall decide, depending on the complexity of the organisation and the training being conducted, whether to make use of a dedicated audit team or a single auditor. In any event, the auditor or audit team shall have relevant training and/or operational experience.
13.2	The responsibilities of the auditors shall be clearly defined in the relevant documentation.
14.0	Auditor's Independence
14.1	Auditors shall not have any day-to-day involvement in the area of the operation or maintenance activity that is to be audited.
14.2	An ATO may, in addition to using the services of full-time dedicated personnel belonging to a separate quality department, undertake the monitoring of specific areas or activities through the use of part-time auditors. An ATO whose structure and size does not justify the establishment of full-time auditors may undertake the audit function using part-time personnel from within its own organisation or from an external source under the terms of an agreement acceptable to the Authority.

14.3	In all cases, the ATO shall develop suitable procedures to ensure that persons directly responsible for the activities to be audited are not selected as part of the auditing team. Where external auditors are used, it is essential that any external specialist has some familiarity with the type of activity conducted by the ATO.
14.4	The quality assurance audit programme of the ATO shall identify the persons within the organisation who have the experience, responsibility, and authority to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) Perform quality inspections and audits as part of ongoing quality assurance;(b) Identify and record concerns or findings and the evidence necessary to substantiate such concerns or findings;(c) Initiate or recommend solutions to concerns or findings through designated reporting channels;(d) Verify the implementation of solutions within specific and reasonable timescales; and(e) Report directly to the quality manager.
15.0	Audit Scheduling
15.1	A quality assurance audit programme shall include a defined audit schedule and a periodic review cycle. The schedule shall be flexible and shall allow unscheduled audits when negative trends are identified. The quality manager shall schedule follow-up audits when necessary to verify that a corrective action resulting from a finding was carried out and that it is effective.
15.2	An ATO shall establish a schedule of audits to be completed during a specific calendar period. This schedule shall be influenced by the organisational risk profile and shall be reflected in both the risk management plan and the coherence matrix documents. At a minimum, all aspects of the training shall be reviewed within a period of 12 months in accordance with the audit programme.
15.3	When an ATO defines the audit schedule, it shall take into account significant changes to management, the organisation, training, or technologies, as well as changes to standards and requirements.
16.0	Monitoring and Corrective Action
16.1	The aim of monitoring within the quality system is primarily to investigate and judge its effectiveness and thereby ensure that defined policy and training standards are continuously complied with. Monitoring and corrective action functions fall under the responsibilities of the quality manager. Monitoring activity is based upon: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) Quality inspections;(b) Quality audits; and(c) Corrective and preventive action reports and subsequent follow-up.
16.2	Any nonconformity identified as a result of monitoring shall be communicated by the quality manager to the manager responsible for taking corrective action or, if appropriate, to the Director of Training or, when circumstances warrant, to the accountable manager. Such nonconformity shall be recorded for the purpose of further investigation in order to determine the cause and enable the recommendation of an appropriate corrective action.
16.3	The quality assurance audit programme shall include procedures to ensure that corrective and preventive actions are developed in response to findings. Personnel implementing these procedures shall monitor such actions to ensure that they have been completed and to verify their effectiveness. Organisational responsibility and accountability for the implementation of a corrective action resides with the department in which the finding was identified. The accountable manager will have the ultimate responsibility for ensuring, through the quality manager, that the corrective action has reestablished conformity with the standard required by the ATO and any additional requirements established by the Authority or the ATO.

- 16.4 As part of its quality system, the ATO shall identify internal and external customers and shall monitor customer satisfaction by measurement and analysis of feedback.

17.0 Continuous Improvement Process

- 17.1 The quality manager shall be responsible for the review and continuous improvement of the established quality system's policies, processes, and procedures. The following tools, on which the quality manager shall rely, are essential to the ongoing continuous improvement process:

- (a) Organisational risk profile;
- (b) Risk management plan;
- (c) Coherence matrix;
- (d) Corrective and preventive action reports; and
- (e) Inspection and audit reports.

- 17.2 These tools and processes are interrelated and help define the continuous improvement efforts of the organisation. For example, any corrective or preventive action report may identify a deficiency or an opportunity for improvement. As outlined in paragraph 16.2 of this IS, the quality manager shall ensure the identified issue is addressed and effectively implemented. The same shall be true if the discovery of an issue was identified during an inspection or audit.

- 17.3 The effective implementation of change and the subsequent validation that the change did indeed result in the desired outcome are critical to the continuous improvement process. Simply introducing a well-meaning suggestion for improvement into the organisation without carefully managing that change may have undesirable consequences. It is therefore incumbent upon the quality manager to responsibly introduce, monitor, and validate improvement efforts.

- 17.4 A simplistic but effective process to use in managing continuous improvement is known as the PDCA approach. Figure 1 depicts this continuous improvement process cycle:

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) Plan. Map out the implementation of the recommended change, identifying at least:<ul style="list-style-type: none">(1) The people who will be affected by the change(2) The required quality control measures necessary to mitigate risk; and(3) The desired outcome and its intended consequences.(b) Do. Execute the implementation plan once all affected groups have accepted the proposal and understand their role in ensuring its success.(c) Check. Apply sufficient quality control "stage" checks throughout the implementation phase to ensure any unintended deviations in the execution are identified and addressed without delay; and(d) Act. Analyse the results and take appropriate action as necessary.
18.0	Management Review and Analysis
18.1	Management shall accomplish a comprehensive, systematic, and documented review and analysis of the quality system, training policies, and procedures and shall consider: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) The results of quality inspections, audits, and any other indicators;(b) The overall effectiveness of the management organisation in achieving stated objectives; and(c) The correction of trends and, where applicable, the prevention of future nonconformities.
18.2	Conclusions and recommendations made as a result of the review and analysis shall be submitted, in writing, to the responsible manager for action. The responsible manager shall be a person who has the authority to resolve relevant issues and take action. The Director of Training shall decide upon the frequency, format, and structure of meetings for internal review and analysis, in coordination with the accountable manager, if different, as the accountable manager has the overall responsibility for the quality system, including the frequency, format, and structure of the internal management review and analysis activities.
19.0	Recording
19.1	Accurate, complete, and readily accessible records documenting the result of the quality assurance audit programme shall be maintained by the ATO. Records are essential data to enable an ATO to analyse and determine the root causes of nonconformity so that areas of non-compliance can be identified and subsequently addressed.
19.2	Records shall be retained at least for the period mandated by national requirements. In the absence of such requirements, a period of 3 years is recommended. The relevant records include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">(a) Audit schedules;(b) Quality inspection and audit reports;(c) Responses to findings;(d) Corrective and preventive action reports;(e) Follow-up and closure reports; and(f) Management review and analysis reports.
20.0	Quality Assurance Responsibility for Satellite ATOs
20.1	An ATO may decide to subcontract certain activities to external organisations subject to the approval of the Authority.
20.2	The ultimate responsibility for the training provided by the satellite ATO always remains with the ATO. A written agreement shall exist between the ATO and the satellite ATO clearly defining the training services to be provided and the level of quality to be assured. The satellite ATO's activities relevant to the agreement shall be included in the ATO's quality assurance audit programme.

20.3	The ATO shall ensure that the satellite ATO has the necessary authorisation/approval when required and that it commands the resources and competence to undertake the task.
21.0	Quality Assurance Training
21.1	Appropriate and thorough training is essential to optimise quality in every organisation. In order to achieve the appropriate outcomes of such training, the ATO shall ensure that all personnel understand the objectives as laid out in the Quality Manual to a level relevant to their duties, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) The concept of quality assurance and associated systems; (b) Quality management; (c) The Quality Manual; (d) Inspections and audit techniques; and (e) Reporting and recording.
21.2	Time and resources shall be allocated to provide appropriate levels of quality assurance training to every employee
21.3	Quality assurance courses are available from the various national or international standards institutions, and an ATO may consider whether to offer such courses to those likely to be involved in the management or supervision of quality assurance processes. ATOs with sufficient appropriately qualified personnel may consider the possibility of providing in-house training.
